

Work procedure – Infection or suspicion of infection of COVID-19 in staff

Member of staff with symptoms of COVID-19

Staff member does not attend to his job and gets a test for COVID-19. The staff member in question is in quarantine while waiting for the results. Staff member stays at home until symptom have disappeared.

A member of staff with COVID-19

The infection control team contacts the member of staff. Staff member informs authorities of the situation. A decision made about quarantine for students and members of staff as needed.

Staff member closely related to an individual with COVID-19

Staff member goes to quarantine and does not attend school. An observation is made on whether actions are needed regarding students and staff that the person in question has been in contact with.